Candle Holder - Blooming Dots (1 Unit)

From our fabulous friends at PartyLite this candle holder is perfect for either a Tealight candle or a Votive. And as shown in the graphics - the stand is reversible - so you can display whichever way takes your fancy... up or down. I had to laugh... My girlfriend said they would make the perfect party shot glasses - so she reckons you definitely need to purchase two of them... as it is no fun doing shots alone. I assured her these are way too big for shot glasses... very dangerous! See further details regarding this item below...

Description

You will be stunned at the Quality at our Price!

These are packed in a set of two but please note the price is for the one unit only. (We ship in sets of two to avoid breakages.)

The beautiful set of two was originally price over $30... so one equates to $15+... an amazing bargain at our price.

The graphics show the set utilising Votive candles however, they are perfectly ideal for gorgeous everyday tealights - either fragrance or fragrance free too.

If your budget enables you to - we highly recommend you sell these in pairs where possible... they make the most impressive of gifts for Mums that enjoy fragrance in their homes.

Who doesn't love candlelight? It improves the ambiance of every room!

ENJOY! Tealight candles available for purchase separately... just ask - if you cannot locate them.
