Description

This brilliant little invention transforms a pointy heel into a resilient blunt object, without adversely detracting from the appearance of your beautiful shoes.

All of us Mums have our pointy stiletto-heeled favourites and this handy gift will enable them to be our favourites, just that little longer.

When slipped over the heels of Mum's shoes, they will protect the shoes' outer fabric from damage and general wear and tear... which we girls are constantly annoyed about - as we are always scrapping the heels on our shoes. But more importantly, will give Mum protection from falling down little cracks between decking or paving. While also combating sinking, when standing on soft surfaces - like grass at the races or outdoor picnics, weddings etc.
